Elite Semiconductor Microelectronics Technology Inc. Business Report

I. 2024 Business Plan Implementation and Profit Results:

In 2024, the niche memory industry was impacted by global economic consumption fatigue, pressure from interest rate hikes, and geopolitical tensions resulting in a persistent economic downturn. Although the three major memory companies experienced a temporary price rebound due to production cuts, this was insufficient to counter weak demand. In the fourth quarter, the revenues of major niche memory companies were in a state of decline, and it is anticipated that 2025 will remain challenging. Benefiting from the temporary price recovery and effective cost control, our company achieved revenues of NT$13.485 billion in 2024, a 13.47% increase from the previous year's NT$11.884 billion. The gross margin reached 12.11%, a significant improvement from the 2.73% of the prior year. Net profit after tax was NT$505 million, a notable turnaround from the NT$1.209 billion loss in 2023, with earnings per share at NT$1.80.

At the beginning of 2023, OpenAI emerged, captivating the world and igniting global enthusiasm for AI. Many people believe AI development will transform future lifestyles, prompting substantial investments in manpower and resources to develop AI-related products and applications. Research and development in generative AI and large language models (LLMs) have become the most critical projects for major companies in the coming years. These efforts require extremely high computational power, necessitating not only high-speed main chips but also high-bandwidth memory (HBM) for efficient operation. HBM paired with AI main chips starts at a capacity of 64GB, with the highest exceeding 200GB. The generative AI boom is expected to drive significant memory demand growth in the coming years. However, the emergence of DeepSeek by the end of 2024 could dramatically alter the AI landscape. By utilizing highly streamlined manpower and resources, DeepSeek achieves results comparable to Open AI, significantly lowering the entry barriers to the AI field. This is expected to usher in an era of diverse AI development, further boosting memory demand and creating a prosperous outlook.

To achieve environmental sustainability, electric vehicles (EVs) will continue to experience strong growth, and the proportion of automotive semiconductors is expected to rise increasingly. Our company passed the ISO 26262 safety certification by the end of 2023, demonstrating our commitment to advancing automotive electronics. In the coming years, revenue from automotive semiconductors is anticipated to grow steadily.

As regards power IC and analog IC products, product lines are becoming more and more comprehensive after years of hard work and cultivation. The products have gained the recognition of large customers, and in particular, the market share of audio amplifiers in the TV market has been on the rise. In 2024, demand slowed down and prices fell due to the global economic downturn and consumption weakly which cause the shipment volume improved, but the revenue decline 4.25%. Looking ahead to 2025, audio amplifiers will thrive in the South Korean television market.

However, the television market in mainland China is facing intense competition from domestic alternatives. It is estimated that operations in 2025 will experience a slight growth in shipment volume and revenue.

Looking ahead, Elite Semiconductor Microelectronics Technology Inc. (ESMT) will continue to uphold the philosophy of sustainable business operations, consistently focusing on the equity and expectations of stakeholders. We emphasize the impact of environmental, social, and governance factors on our operations, monitor international developments and climate change-related disasters, and remain committed to supporting the underprivileged while pursuing a harmonious society. In line with the sustainable development blueprint outlined by regulatory authorities, we aim to fulfill our sustainability commitments and corporate social responsibilities. Grounded in our core values, we will continue to develop new technologies and innovative products, aspiring to become a top global supplier and partner to achieve the goals of corporate sustainability and social well-being.

II. 2025 Business Plan

1. Business Strategy

- (1) Expand the R&D team to enhance the potentials and increase relevant equipment expenditures to improve efficiency.
- (2) Expand 25nm/21nm low-density niche DRAM memory product lines such as DDR4, LPDDR4, DDR3, LP DDR3, DDR2, LP DDR2, etc.
- (3) Accelerate the R&D of 19nm DRAM and begin mass production.
- (4) Completed the mass production introduction of 19nm/40nm NAND products.
- (5) Accelerate the expansion of MCP, eMCP and eMMC production line.
- (6) Expand the 50nm NOR Flash product line and business in full force.
- (7) Expand the niche memory product line for automotive applications.
- (8) Accelerate the research and development of audio amplifier IC and power IC product lines.
- (9) Expand non-memory product lines, such as IoT/AIoT Wireless IC/Solutions, Motor Drive IC, and Sensor IC (Temperature/Photo).
- (10) Maintain a stable financial structure.

2. Sales Volume Forecast and Its Basis

In the past, the rapid growth of industries such as smartphones, tablets, and data centers drove demand. However, entering 2025, demand appears to be softening. While some market demand persists, the overall supply-demand relationship is beginning to adjust. As technology advances and market needs evolve, DDR4 is gradually being phased out by major memory manufacturers, with a shift toward high-profit, high-end products expected. At the same time, production of DRAM and NAND flash memory, particularly traditional types, may be reduced. It is projected that the memory industry will enter the trough of its business cycle in the coming quarters, with intensified competition in the HBM and standard memory markets. Memory manufacturers will face challenges from policy and economic environments, with changes in monetary policy and global economic recovery serving as key factors influencing the storage chip market. Additional concerns include inventory levels, tariffs, and overinvestment. Consequently, HBM vendors in 2025 will continue vying for market share, eventually entering a phase of inventory reduction and excess idle capacity. Due to the overcapacity of DRAM in China, the oversupply will become increasingly severe. The widespread price decline of NAND flash and DRAM in the first quarter of 2025 undoubtedly pressure related companies, presenting new challenges to our company. In this rapidly changing market environment, maintaining keen market insight and flexibility in responding to market shifts is essential.

The EV market in 2025 remains in a phase of strategic deployment and adjustment. Automakers are working diligently to lay the groundwork for the future. Still, a market boom may not occur until more factories commence production, technological breakthroughs are achieved, and the policy environment stabilizes. Our company is actively positioning itself in the EV memory market, and as the EV market takes off, it is expected to drive the company's performance growth.

Additionally, our company is proactively expanding research and development in other IC design fields, such as Wireless SOC IC, Motor Driver IC, and Sensor IC (including temperature and image sensor IC), with expectations of yielding results within the next two to three years.

3.Policies on Production and Marketing

- (1) Strengthen the partnership with wafer suppliers and post-production outsourcers to maintain stable production capacity and supply.
- (2) Strengthen the promotion of SOC Memory, NOR Flash, NAND Flash and MCP/eMCP business.
- (3) Provide cost structure and quality superior to peers and expand the market share in domestic and foreign markets.
- (4) Strengthen the interactive relationship with customers and distributors and expand the application fields of new products to increase business sales.

III. Future Development Strategies of the Company and Impacts of the External Competition Environment, Regulatory Environment, and the Overall Business Environment

After experiencing the semiconductor market boom driven by the stay-at-home economy triggered by the COVID-19 pandemic and shortages caused by international shipping bottlenecks, the memory market entered a downward cycle in the second half of 2022 due to an oversupply of consumer electronics. Although 2024 saw a temporary price rebound due to production cuts by major manufacturers, it was insufficient to offset weak demand. Entering 2025, rapid capacity expansion of China manufacturers has led to rising inventory and supply levels. If capacity adjustments are not well-managed, despite some sustained market demand, the overall industry inventory reduction will proceed more slowly. The continued weakness in consumer electronics demand will undoubtedly exert downward pressure on the price of NAND flash and DRAM. In this broader environment, only by strengthening technical capabilities, accelerating new product development, and continuously reducing costs can we effectively respond to future competition.

Our company specializes in low-density niche memory, which is increasingly expand application and become an indispensable electronic component in technological products. It is expected that global demand for niche memory in tech products will continue to grow in 2025. To support the market demand, our company will continue to enhance new product development, focusing on high-integration, high-speed, and low-power memory IC products, known good die (KGD), NOR and NAND flash, as well as MCP/eMCP/eMMC businesses. Additionally, we will accelerate R&D in analog IC and mixed-signal integrated circuits, including product lines such as audio amplifiers, power management, IoT/AIoT wireless communication, and temperature/image sensor IC, to enhance product competitiveness and meet diverse customer needs. Furthermore, our company aims to swiftly enter the global supply chain for advanced safety systems in automotive electronics, establishing a stronger foothold in future competition and maximizing income for the company.

The Company's current operations are in compliance with the relevant existing laws and regulations of domestic and foreign reinvestment countries. The management team will also continue to pay close attention to any changes in policies and laws that may affect the Company's finances and business, as a reference for operations. In addition, the Company also cooperates with professional organizations, pays close attention to the development of relevant laws and regulations, and adjusts strategies to meet the needs of operations in a timely manner. In other words, the Company is able to timely grasp and respond to important domestic and foreign policy and legal changes.

Refer to Note 4(13) for accounting policies on inventory valuation, Note 5(2) for uncertainty of accounting estimates and assumptions in relation to inventory valuation, and Note 6(5) for details of inventories. As at December 31, 2024, the Company's inventories and allowance for inventory valuation losses amounted to NT$8,152,306 thousand and NT$219,843 thousand, respectively.

Elite Semiconductor Microelectronics Technology Inc. is primarily engaged in researching, developing, manufacturing, selling integrated circuits. Elite Semiconductor Microelectronics Technology Inc. recognises inventories at the lower of cost and net realisable value. An allowance for inventory valuation losses is provided for those inventories aged over a certain period and those individually identified as obsolete or damaged. As the estimation of net realisable value for individually obsolete or damaged inventories is subject to management's judgment, we considered the allowance for inventory valuation losses a key audit matter.

How our audit addressed the matter

We have performed primary audit procedures for the above matter, including assessing the reasonability of the policies and procedures adopted to provide for inventory losses based on our understanding of Elite Semiconductor Microelectronics Technology Inc. operations and industry, validating the appropriateness of relevant information in the inventory aging report utilised by Elite Semiconductor Microelectronics Technology Inc., and evaluating and testing the reasonability of estimation of net realisable value. We then evaluated the reasonableness of the allowance for inventory valuation losses provided by the Elite Semiconductor Microelectronics Technology Inc..

Responsibilities of management and those charged with governance for the parent company only financial statements

Management is responsible for the preparation and fair presentation of the parent company only financial statements in accordance with the Regulations Governing the Preparation of Financial Reports by Securities Issuers, and for such internal control as management determines is necessary to enable the preparation of parent company only financial statements that are free from material misstatement, whether due to fraud or error.

In preparing the parent company only financial statements, management is responsible for assessing Elite Semiconductor Microelectronics Technology Inc.'s ability to continue as a going concern, disclosing, as applicable, matters related to going concern and using the going concern basis of accounting unless management either intends to liquidate Elite Semiconductor Microelectronics Technology Inc. or to cease operations, or has no realistic alternative but to do so.

Those charged with governance, including the audit committee, are responsible for overseeing Elite Semiconductor Microelectronics Technology Inc.'s financial reporting process.

Auditor's responsibilities for the audit of the parent company only financial statements

Our objectives are to obtain reasonable assurance about whether the parent company only financial statements as a whole are free from material misstatement, whether due to fraud or error, and to issue an auditor's report that includes our opinion. Reasonable assurance is a high level of assurance, but is not a guarantee that an audit conducted in accordance with the Standards on Auditing of the Republic of China will always detect a material misstatement when it exists. Misstatements can arise from fraud or error and are considered material if, individually or in the aggregate, they could reasonably be expected to influence the economic decisions of users taken on the basis of these parent company only financial statements.

As part of an audit in accordance with the Standards on Auditing of the Republic of China, we exercise professional judgment and professional skepticism throughout the audit. We also:

- A. Identify and assess the risks of material misstatement of the parent company only financial statements, whether due to fraud or error, design and perform audit procedures responsive to those risks, and obtain audit evidence that is sufficient and appropriate to provide a basis for our opinion. The risk of not detecting a material misstatement resulting from fraud is higher than for one resulting from error, as fraud may involve collusion, forgery, intentional omissions, misrepresentations, or the override of internal control.
- B. Obtain an understanding of internal control relevant to the audit in order to design audit procedures that are appropriate in the circumstances, but not for the purpose of expressing an opinion on the effectiveness of Elite Semiconductor Microelectronics Technology Inc.'s internal control.
- C. Evaluate the appropriateness of accounting policies used and the reasonableness of accounting estimates and related disclosures made by management.

- D. Conclude on the appropriateness of management's use of the going concern basis of accounting and, based on the audit evidence obtained, whether a material uncertainty exists related to events or conditions that may cast significant doubt on Elite Semiconductor Microelectronics Technology Inc.'s ability to continue as a going concern. If we conclude that a material uncertainty exists, we are required to draw attention in our auditor's report to the related disclosures in the parent company only financial statements or, if such disclosures are inadequate, to modify our opinion. Our conclusions are based on the audit evidence obtained up to the date of our auditor's report. However, future events or conditions may cause Elite Semiconductor Microelectronics Technology Inc. to cease to continue as a going concern.
- E. Evaluate the overall presentation, structure and content of the parent company only financial statements, including the disclosures, and whether the parent company only financial statements represent the underlying transactions and events in a manner that achieves fair presentation.
- F. Obtain sufficient appropriate audit evidence regarding the financial information of the entities or business activities within Elite Semiconductor Microelectronics Technology Inc. to express an opinion on the parent company only financial statements. We are responsible for the direction, supervision and performance of parent company only audit. We remain solely responsible for our audit opinion.

We communicate with those charged with governance regarding, among other matters, the planned scope and timing of the audit and significant audit findings, including any significant deficiencies in internal control that we identify during our audit.

We also provide those charged with governance with a statement that we have complied with relevant ethical requirements regarding independence, and to communicate with them all relationships and other matters that may reasonably be thought to bear on our independence, and where applicable, related safeguards.

From the matters communicated with those charged with governance, we determine those matters that were of most significance in the audit of the parent company only financial statements of the current period and are therefore the key audit matters. We describe these matters in our auditor's report unless law or regulation precludes public disclosure about the matter or when, in extremely rare circumstances, we determine that a matter should not be communicated in our report because the adverse consequences of doing so would reasonably be expected to outweigh the public interest benefits of such communication.

INDEPENDENT AUDITORS' REPORT TRANSLATED FROM CHINESE

To the Board of Directors and Shareholders of Elite Semiconductor Microelectronics Technology Inc.

Opinion

We have audited the accompanying consolidated balance sheets of Elite Semiconductor Microelectronics Technology Inc. and its subsidiaries (the“ Group”) as at December 31, 2024 and 2023, and the related consolidated statements of comprehensive income, of changes in equity and of cash flows for the years then ended, and notes to the consolidated financial statements, including a summary of material accounting policies.

In our opinion, the accompanying consolidated financial statements present fairly, in all material respects, the consolidated financial position of the Group as at December 31, 2024 and 2023, and its consolidated financial performance and its consolidated cash flows for the years then ended in accordance with the Regulations Governing the Preparation of Financial Reports by Securities Issuers and the International Financial Reporting Standards, International Accounting Standards, IFRIC Interpretations, and SIC Interpretations that came into effect as endorsed by the Financial Supervisory Commission.

Basis for opinion

We conducted our audits in accordance with the Regulations Governing Financial Statement Audit and Attestation Engagements of Certified Public Accountants and Standards on Auditing of the Republic of China. Our responsibilities under those standards are further described in the Auditor's responsibilities for the audit of the consolidated financial statements section of our report. We are independent of the Group in accordance with the Norm of Professional Ethics for Certified Public Accountants of the Republic of China, and we have fulfilled our other ethical responsibilities in accordance with these requirements. We believe that the audit evidence we have obtained is sufficient and appropriate to provide a basis for our opinion.

Key audit matters

Key audit matters are those matters that, in our professional judgment, were of most significance in our audit of the Group's 2024 consolidated financial statements. These matters were addressed in the context of our audit of the consolidated financial statements as a whole and, in forming our opinion thereon, we do not provide a separate opinion on these matters.

Key audit matters for the Group's 2024 consolidated financial statements are stated as follows:

Allowance for inventory valuation losses

Description

Refer to Note 4(13) for accounting policies on inventory valuation, Note 5(2) for uncertainty of accounting estimates and assumptions in relation to inventory valuation, and Note 6(5) for details of inventories. As at December 31, 2024, the Group's inventories and allowance for inventory valuation losses amounted to NT$8,156,813 thousand and NT$219,843 thousand, respectively.

The Group is primarily engaged in researching, developing, manufacturing, selling of integrated circuits. The Group recognises inventories at the lower of cost and net realisable value. An allowance for inventory valuation losses is provided for those inventories aged over a certain period and those individually identified as obsolete or damaged. As the estimation of net realisable value for individually obsolete or damaged inventories is subject to management's judgment, we considered the allowance for inventory valuation losses a key audit matter.

How our audit addressed the matter

We have performed primary audit procedures for the above matter, including assessing the reasonability of the policies and procedures adopted to provide for inventory losses based on our understanding of the Group's operations and industry, validating the appropriateness of relevant information in the inventory aging report utilised by the Group, and evaluating and testing the reasonability of estimation of net realisable value. We then evaluated the reasonableness of the allowance for inventory valuation losses provided by the Group.

Other matter—Parent company only financial reports

We have audited and expressed an unmodified opinion on the parent company only financial statements of Elite Semiconductor Microelectronics Technology Inc. as at and for the years ended December 31, 2024 and 2023.

Responsibilities of management and those charged with governance for the consolidated financial statements

Management is responsible for the preparation and fair presentation of the consolidated financial statements in accordance with the Regulations Governing the Preparation of Financial Reports by Securities Issuers and the International Financial Reporting Standards, International Accounting Standards, IFRIC Interpretations, and SIC Interpretations that came into effect as endorsed by the Financial Supervisory Commission, and for such internal control as management determines is necessary to enable the preparation of consolidated financial statements that are free from material misstatement, whether due to fraud or error.

In preparing the consolidated financial statements, management is responsible for assessing the Group's ability to continue as a going concern, disclosing, as applicable, matters related to going concern and using the going concern basis of accounting unless management either intends to liquidate the Group or to cease operations, or has no realistic alternative but to do so.

Those charged with governance, including the audit committee, are responsible for overseeing the Group's financial reporting process.

Auditor's responsibilities for the audit of the consolidated financial statements

Our objectives are to obtain reasonable assurance about whether the consolidated financial statements as a whole are free from material misstatement, whether due to fraud or error, and to issue an auditor's report that includes our opinion. Reasonable assurance is a high level of assurance, but is not a guarantee that an audit conducted in accordance with the Standards on Auditing of the Republic of China will always detect a material misstatement when it exists. Misstatements can arise from fraud or error and are considered material if, individually or in the aggregate, they could reasonably be expected to influence the economic decisions of users taken on the basis of these consolidated financial statements.

As part of an audit in accordance with the Standards on Auditing of the Republic of China, we exercise professional judgment and professional skepticism throughout the audit. We also:

- A. Identify and assess the risks of material misstatement of the consolidated financial statements, whether due to fraud or error, design and perform audit procedures responsive to those risks, and obtain audit evidence that is sufficient and appropriate to provide a basis for our opinion. The risk of not detecting a material misstatement resulting from fraud is higher than for one resulting from error, as fraud may involve collusion, forgery, intentional omissions, misrepresentations, or the override of internal control.

- B. Obtain an understanding of internal control relevant to the audit in order to design audit procedures that are appropriate in the circumstances, but not for the purpose of expressing an opinion on the effectiveness of the Group's internal control.
- C. Evaluate the appropriateness of accounting policies used and the reasonableness of accounting estimates and related disclosures made by management.
- D. Conclude on the appropriateness of management's use of the going concern basis of accounting and, based on the audit evidence obtained, whether a material uncertainty exists related to events or conditions that may cast significant doubt on the Group's ability to continue as a going concern. If we conclude that a material uncertainty exists, we are required to draw attention in our auditor's report to the related disclosures in the consolidated financial statements or, if such disclosures are inadequate, to modify our opinion. Our conclusions are based on the audit evidence obtained up to the date of our auditor's report. However, future events or conditions may cause the Group to cease to continue as a going concern.
- E. Evaluate the overall presentation, structure and content of the consolidated financial statements, including the disclosures, and whether the consolidated financial statements represent the underlying transactions and events in a manner that achieves fair presentation.
- F. Obtain sufficient appropriate audit evidence regarding the financial information of the entities or business activities within the Group to express an opinion on the consolidated financial statements. We are responsible for the direction, supervision and performance of the group audit. We remain solely responsible for our audit opinion.

We communicate with those charged with governance regarding, among other matters, the planned scope and timing of the audit and significant audit findings, including any significant deficiencies in internal control that we identify during our audit.

We also provide those charged with governance with a statement that we have complied with relevant ethical requirements regarding independence, and to communicate with them all relationships and other matters that may reasonably be thought to bear on our independence, and where applicable, related safeguards.

From the matters communicated with those charged with governance, we determine those matters that were of most significance in the audit of the consolidated financial statements of the current period and are therefore the key audit matters. We describe these matters in our auditor's report unless law or regulation precludes public disclosure about the matter or when, in extremely rare circumstances, we determine that a matter should not be communicated in our report because the adverse consequences of doing so would reasonably be expected to outweigh the public interest benefits of such communication.
